4. Electronic time-stamps types and usage

CIPSC aims to deliver time-stamping services in accordance with te Regulation (EU) 910/2014 ("eIDAS Regulation). CIPSC Time Stamps may be equally applied to any application requiring proof that a datum existed before a particular time on terms of the CIPSC TSA Policies and Practice Statements found at address: h tps://cipsc.coloriuris.net/politicas/

The following hash algorithms are accepted and supported:

- SHA-256

The signature of the time stamps issued is done by calculating the hash using SHA-256 and encrypting it with RSA algorithms, using a key with a length of at least 2048 bits.

The object-identifier (OID) of the CIPSC Time-Stamping Policy is: 1.3.6.1.4.1.37799.20.5.0.1.0. This OID is referenced in every CIPSC issued time-stamp and the CIPSC TSA Practice Statements. This Time Stamping Policy is based on the ETSI BTSP best practicer policy for time-stamps (OID 0.4.0.2023.1.1).

The TSU certificate is issued by a self signed root CA. Details of the TSU certificate and the CA can be found at address: https://cipsc.coloriuris.net/ certificados/ and section 3.6 - TSACI Root Certificate and Seals of the CIPSC TSA Policies and Practice Statements.

5. Reliance limits

The accuracy of the time reference included in time-stamp tokens is ±1 second, with reference to UTC (Universal Time Coordinated).

The information generated in the log file is kept online until being archived. Once archived, log files are kept for 7 years.

6. Obligations of subscribers

Obligations of suscribers can be found in the TSA Policies and Practice Statements published on the CIPSC website at address: https://cipsc.coloriuris.net/politicas/

7. TSU public key certificate status checking obligations of relying parties

Before relying on a time-stamp token issued by CIPSC, relying parties must verify that the time-stamp token is correctly signed (that is, it contains a valid electronic signature) and that the TSU certificate is not revoked, by checking the suitable CRL at the address specified in the certificate itself.

8. Limited warranty and disclaimer/Limitation of liability

CIPSC is only liable in case of default of its obligations under the applicable law and the TSA Policies and Practice Statement.

CIPSC not assume any responsibility regarding the use of evidence issued for any unauthorized in the TSA Policies and Practice Statement use.

CIPSC is not responsible for the content of the documents and data that their services are applied, and is not liable for any damages in transactions that have been used.
It CIPSC not represent in any way to the signatories, creators of seals or relying parties of the evidence given.

CIPSC makes no warranties and assumes no liability, to holders of certificates or other evidence issued to the user or parts thereof outside the provisions of the Policies and Practice Statement.
CIPSC has a liability insurance with coverage of three million euros (€ 3,000,000.00).
